MIDLAND DISTRICT CROSS-COUNTRY CH/SHIPS

CLELAND ESTATE 19TH JANUARY 1974

Logue's power tells in mud

The Commonwealth Games and an International race in Spain weakened the field in the senior race of the Midlands cross-country championships at Cleland Estate on Saturday.

The tall, powerful figure of the Glasgow University student, David Logue, forced his way over a heavy six-mile course, where the mud was deep in several places, to an easy victory.

Logue, an Irish Internationalist, who is currently one of the leading distance runners in the country, led from the start and was soon out on his own. The Scottish 1500 metres champion, Laurie Spence, of Strathclyde University, kept in contact for a couple of miles along with Stuart Easton (Shettleston), but Logue finished nearly half a minute ahead of Spence, with Easton five seconds behind in third place.

Glasgow University gave Springburn Harriers a very close fight for the team race, going down by only five points.

Springburn had a splendid day of it as they took all four team titles, but every race except the senior boys' was a close result. In the junior boys' race Springburn scraped home by a point from Victoria Park and in the youths' race their margin was only two points, from Shettleston.

There was an impressive performance by the winner of the youths' race, Nat Muir, of Shettleston, who is one of the most improved runners in the country. Muir, runner-up for the Scottish senior boys' title last year, took on John Graham, of Motherwell, runner-up in last year's Scottish youth championship and although he is a year younger than the Motherwell boy, Muir won by more than 20 yards.

Results:—

Senior six miles—1, D. Logue (Glasgow University), 35min. 4sec.; 2, L. Spence (Strathclyde University); 3, S. Easton (Shettleston). Team race—1, Springburn, 91 points; 2, Glasgow University, 96; 3, Clydesdale, 145.

CLYDESDALE HARRIERS

On Saturday at Cleland Estate the senior team was placed 3rd, keeping up our good record in the Midland District Cross-Country Championship. We are the only club to be placed in the first three for the last four years. This year, although we relinquished the team trophy to Springburn Harriers who scored 91 points with their six runners, we finished a good 3rd — 60 points ahead of Cambuslang Harriers.

Dave Logue, of Glasgow University, won the 6 miles race over a very heavy trail, and led his club to 2nd place in the team contest.
