

SCOTTISH NORTHERN DISTRICT CHAMPIONSHIPS

Elgin

ROSS ARBUCKLE won his first senior title 16 years ago, but the veteran international showed he is still capable of beating the best the North of Scotland has to offer by chalking up yet another success, Fraser Clyne reports.

The 41 year old veteran international, who won in 1987, 1988 and again last year, dominated the six-mile race from the start and never looked to be in any danger of losing.

Jane Barker bounced back from two recent league defeats to retain the women's title with a hard-fought victory over Scottish hill-running international Dawn Scott.
