

FIELD AND FEN.

(By "Pace.")

By reason of the great event at Scotstoun, on Saturday, the greater number of clubs in the West as well as in the East had home fixtures resting, and the officials and members of clubs held high athletic holiday and interchange of courtesies amidst the hustle bustle, and excitement of the championship, which was one of the greatest of the gatherings yet held in connection with the Scottish event-in-chief of the year. Consequently there are few runs, &c., to chronicle to-day.

THE SCOTTISH NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS.

For the twenty-second year in succession, the annual race for the team and individual and junior championships of Scotland, held by the National Cross-Country Union of Scotland, were run from the grounds of the Glasgow Agricultural Society at Scotstoun.

The race is one of ten miles, all over ordinary country, and the competitors were in teams of twelve from each club, six of the winners counting as a team of six, and the highest aggregate placings counting.

A good pace was set early in the race, and all pushed to the front in their eager efforts to be in front. On finishing round the track and going to the open part of the race, those in the lead were Young (Clydesdale), Stevenson (Clydesdale), Russell (Bellahouston), Clelland (Hamilton), Graham (Motherwell), Inglis (Edinburgh Northern), and J. Cockburn (Edinburgh Southern). There were a few mishaps outside, and some passing and repassing on the hilly journey, but the ground was in tolerably good condition and the racing was lively.

The race in the open was one of many rushes and incidents, but all ran fresh into the grounds again, sorely mud-stained and bearing very evident marks of the struggle over hill and dale. The first to run into the grounds and be timed at the five miles' mark were—Miller (Motherwell), M'Phee (Clydesdale), Stevenson (Clydesdale), M'Kenzie (West of Scotland), Jack (Edinburgh Southern), Russell (Bellahouston), &c. Quite a number retired at the half distance, but the others held on with great stamina and grit to the latter part of the trying race. In the end, and after an absence of over 60 minutes, the leading men were sighted, and amid wild shouting the bedraggled and tired runners bounded past the winning mark, and the list of arrivals was in order as
